If you would like an early start, you can observe the morning almsgiving ceremony. Let your guide know the day before if you wish to make an offering so that suitable food can be prepared. Observe quietly, keep a respectful distance and cover your shoulders, chest and legs. Afterwards, return to your hotel for breakfast or join local residents for a bowl of noodle soup.

Visit the Morning Market to browse local produce, tea and woven textiles. At Heritage House, join a hands-on class using banana leaves and flowers to create a traditional religious offering, known as a van-cornet. Take your finished arrangement to a nearby temple to make an offering to the monks.

Continue to the National Museum in the former Royal Palace, then visit Wat Mai. In the afternoon, explore Wat Xieng Thong, known for its sweeping roofs, before travelling by private vehicle to Kuang Si Waterfalls. There is an opportunity to stop at the Hmong village of Ban Na Ouane on the way.

Walk along the forest paths towards the turquoise cascades, passing the bear rescue centre. There is time to swim where permitted before returning to your hotel.

Overnight in Luang Prabang.

DAY 3

Elephant Village and an Evening Baci Ceremony (B,L,D)

Your English-speaking guide will collect you from your Luang Prabang hotel between 8:00 and 8:30 am. At Elephant Village, meet your guide for an introduction to the elephants before the feeding session.

Explore the elephant hospital, museum, photo gallery and dung-paper workshop. Learn how the mahouts communicate with the elephants, then take a traditional Lao boat to Tad Sae Waterfall. Relax by the water or bring swimwear if you would like to swim where permitted.

Enjoy a buffet lunch at Shangri Lao restaurant, with coffee, tea and drinking water. Vegetarian options are available. Return to your hotel at around 1:00 pm. Elephant Village may divide participants into smaller groups.

This evening, visit a local home for a Baci ceremony and Lao dance performance, followed by dinner. Traditionally held to mark important occasions and welcome guests, the Baci ceremony expresses wishes for harmony and well-being.
